Communicating allergens and nutritional information, managing prepped items, and reducing food waste depends on an efficient, accurate labelling system.

Is your current system up to the challenge?

Or does it lead to inconsistency, wasted food, and the need for retraining?

If so, try DateCodeGenie® Lite—a space-saving portable solution.

- Easily make prep, freezer, shelf life and batch labels
- Show your logo, QR codes, prices, nutritional facts & more
- Create full Natasha's Law Allergen Labels
- Portable 10" full-colour touch screen tablet
- Wireless thermal printer & tablet connect using Bluetooth technology
- Stand-alone thermal printer with print head width of 50mm & 75mm - gives label lengths suiting all applications
- Full training and ongoing support
- Two-year warranty
- Also supports HACCP! - Task Manager is an add-on software that digitises HACCP record management, linking to the DCGLite, printing relevant labels.

& so much more!
